Regulate the granting of Licences for the Sale of Intoxicating Liquors in Ireland. A.D. 1890.

BE it enacted by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same as follows:

5 1. This Act may be cited as the New Licences Act (Ireland), 1890, and shall be construed with the Licensing Acts (Ireland) 1870-1874. Construction and short title.

10 2. From and after the passing of this Act, no new licence shall be granted for the sale of intoxicating liquors in Ireland except in the following cases: New licence not to be granted unless old licences are annulled, except in certain cases.

15 1st. Where the applicant has obtained the assignment of a licence or licences in other premises of equal or greater valuation in the same city or town, or within the same petty sessions district, and shall undertake to permit same to expire in the event of his application for a new licence being granted; or 20 2nd. Where the premises are kept, or are bonâ fide intended to be kept—as refreshment rooms at a railway station for persons arriving or departing by railway, or as an eating house, to accommodate persons taking meals on the premises, or as an hotel, maintained for the reception of travellers staying therein by night.

25 Provided that the valuation of the premises so assigned or licensed, or of the land held and valued therewith, shall not be less than—fifty pounds in the county or cities of Dublin and Belfast, or less than 30 thirty pounds in the cities of Cork, Limerick, Waterford, Galway, or Londonderry, or less than fifteen pounds in any other place,

[Bill 249.]

A.D. 1890. and provided further that no new hotel, eating house, or refreshment room licence shall be renewed if the premises cease to be used in accordance with the terms on which such licence was granted, and such terms shall be endorsed thereon, and signed by the licensing authority or one of the presiding justices.

Exception as to prior licences houses until 1895.

3. Up to the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, notwithstanding anything in this Act contained, new licences may be issued for premises which were licensed since the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, where for any cause the former licence shall not have been renewed or shall have expired.

Definitions.

4. The expression "new licence" shall not be held to include a wholesale beer dealer's licence, or an occasional licence, but shall include an excise licence, and nothing in this Act shall be taken to affect the law as to the transfer or assignment of licences from one person to another.
